NATURACamp

The clever mobile housing system for organic egg production

NATURACamp – the mobile house perfect for laying hens

NATURACamp* is a mobile housing system for 1,000 laying hens developed by Big Dutchman and intended for the production of organic eggs. Consumers today demand regional products.

The mobile house allows farmers to directly market organic eggs and is thus an ideal solution to meet the consumers' request. A basic condition is the animal-friendly management and well-being of the birds. Please ask our experts for detailed information on the ready-to-connect mobile house or visit our website: www.mobilstall.info.
